

A huge thank you for your support this half term. As you are aware we launched our new curriculum and we have had some fantastic feedback about how engaged the children have been and how they are talking about their new learning at home. Please make sure you look at our new curriculum map which is on our website and we also posted a link on our previous newsletter.

We will continue to have fortnightly newsletters so we can ensure we have a wide range of learning to share with you. Any other important messages we will post on Class Dojo.

We are really proud of our children here at Constantine Primary and we hope that you have a fantastic half term. See you all again on the 20th February.

Mrs Gilbert and Ms Smith

On a previous newsletter we shared a painting created by Evie T in Tamar class. She has continued to be creative and we think you will agree that this yet another fantastic painting.

We are very fortunate to have many talented artists here at Constantine Primary and we are hoping to submit entries to the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition for children in London—very exciting.

As part of their Space learning Tamar used pastels to create amazing planet pictures.

Year 6

Tresillian class have been investigating artefacts, in order to answer the question: were all Vikings vicious? The class then acted as museum curators and designed their own exhibition to create a balanced picture of the Vikings.

We are currently working hard learning the 3 songs we will perform in this concert ranging from musical theatre to African folk including body percussion.

Y6 Museum visit to the Maritime Museum

Our Y6 class had a fantastic visit to the Maritime Museum. This half term they have been exploring the question—'Are all Vikings are vicious'. They had a fantastic time and learnt lots of new knowledge.

Helford has been looking at Judaism and the importance of festivals. We re-enacted the traditions of Passover - taking turns to tell the story of Exodus and looking at the importance of the Sedar plate.

In Fal Class, we had a mysterious egg appear in our outside area and we spent some time discussing and predicting what we thought might be inside. We had to think carefully about which animals we knew did or did not lay eggs. This week, the egg hatched and we saw some huge footprints coming away from the egg, through our playground. We followed the footprints and this is what we found...

Describe the dinosaur that has hatched from the egg.

- it has a long tail.
- it has a long neck.
- it has big legs.
